

Antenna Web Design Studio 2.2 Released - Make Your Own Professional Web Site

Stormdance, December 16, 2004

URL: <http://www.pr9.net/comp/software/1399december.html>

New version of Antenna Web Design Studio released by Stormdance (version 2.2) - visual web site creation software for developing professional web sites and digital photo galleries rapidly without coding. Several new features enhance the power of this software including dynamic layer scripting and an improved button graphics maker. There are also new animated tutorials.

PR9.NET December 16, 2004 - UK, - Stormdance.net Updates Antenna Web Design Studio 2.2 with Dynamic Layer Scripting and Enhanced Button Graphics Maker.

Today Stormdance.net unveils the latest release of it's flagship web design software studio. Antenna enables beginners to create professional web sites visually without coding and with no previous experience. Text and images appear in the web browser exactly where they are placed in the editor with pixel accuracy, taking the headache out of web page layout. This drag & drop approach means Antenna also has the power to complete sophisticated sites in a short space of time - so experienced designers can develop sites rapidly without spending hours crafting complex HTML code.

Version 2.2 features improved event scripting - showing and hiding layers and objects in response to mouse events, so web pages respond dynamically to visitors actions. The enhanced built in button graphics maker creates better looking glass buttons with improved texture handling and includes a new selection of button textures. A free plug-in provides support for displaying 3D VRML models and worlds.

The software includes built in graphics capabilities for creating attractive roll-over buttons and smooth gradients, and has it's own site publisher - cutting down on the need for additional software. It also creates professional digital photo galleries in minutes with a choice of gallery layout and a quick access thumbnail image strip.

For those new to Antenna there's a set of free helpful on-line animated video tutorials so beginners can get up to speed quickly.

Free Trial and Free Upgrade:

Antenna Web Design Studio 2.2 is available for Windows and costs £24.99 ($49). Download a free fully functional 16 day trial version from www.stormdance.net

Owners of all previous versions can upgrade to version 2.2 completely free of charge.

Evaluation copy available on request. If you would like to include a version of Antenna on a magazine cover-mount disc please get in touch via the contact form at www.stormdance.net

###

About Stormdance

Stormdance is an independent software studio based in the UK, creating high quality web development software for Windows since 1999.

Website: <http://www.stormdance.net>

E-Mail: stormdance@hotpop.com