Rubber stamp artists, scrapbookers, and other rubber stamp enthusiasts can now find local rubber stamp events with a single click using the online map feature at RubberStampCalendar.com, the web's most comprehensive listing of rubber stamp conventions, expos, retreats and trade shows.

PR9.NET February 13, 2005 - San Diego, CA – Rubber stamp artists, scrapbookers, and other rubber stamp enthusiasts will be happy to hear that finding rubber stamp events near them is now just a click away thanks to a "clickable" interactive map. RubberStampCalendar.com - the online resource that offers the most comprehensive listings of rubber stamp and scrapbooking conventions, expos, retreats and trade shows on the web - features an interactive clickable map that displays detailed listings for upcoming events by region. Users can easily find events near them by clicking on their home state.

"I can't tell you how many times I had read about a terrific sounding rubber stamp convention or expo online or in a rubber stamping magazine, only to find out I had missed it by a month," says Nicole Yost, who contributes to the site, " There really wasn't any one place online to find everything that was going on near us." Yost worked with other "stampaholics" to collect rubber stamp event listings into a single online resource, and RubberStampCalendar.com was born.

Created and maintained by stampaholics, RubberStampCalendar.com is a labor of love. "We figured that if we were frustrated, others were too," says Yost, "We decided to make RubberStampCalendar.com because it would be useful for the entire rubber stamping community."

One of the things that RubberStampCalendar.com pioneered was the interactive rubber stamp event calendar. Rubber stampers can now easily find a complete listing of rubber stamp events near them by simply clicking on a map. You can also sign up to have all the latest rubber stamp event listings sent directly to your e-mail address. Since new listings are constantly being added, e-mail updates are a great way to keep on top of what events are coming up without having to keep checking the site.

The Rubber Stamp Calendar is located at www.RubberStampCalendar.com. You can find regional events near you by clicking on the "find events" link, and clicking your home state on the new interactive map. Exhibitors and event sponsors who want to promote their rubber stamp events may also add new events to the calendar by clicking "add events" and filling out a simple online form.
