Song Was Created For Possible Inclusion in the Upcoming Warner Bros. Film "Superman Returns"

PR9.NET April 14, 2005 - Today it was announced that the rock band "Almighty Love Noise" has just completed their new single that was specifically made to be considered for inclusion in the new Warner Bros. film "Superman Returns" that is in production. The title of the track is "Man of Steel" and can be listen to on Thursday April 14, 2005 by go to www.almightylovenoise.com .

"The passion that the whole band put into "Man of Steel" was surreal, from the writing to putting the whole song together, it just came together, we look forward to being considered as an option for Warner Bros. for the new Superman Movie. We felt that the film needed an original song that captures the essence of Superman and we think that we've done that" said Swan of Almighty Love Noise.

Almighty Love Noise lead singer Swan also stated that if the producers of "Superman Returns" do include their new track "Man Of Steel" in the film that they will donate a portion of the proceeds to the "Christopher Reeve Paralysis Foundation" in honor of a real Superman Christopher Reeve.

Almighty Love Noise will be announcing Summer tour dates later this month and they are still looking for more ALN fans to become official "Noisemakers" as they kick off the Summer months with a blast.

The latest ALN CD entitled "Did I Say That Out Loud" can be found at Tower Records www.tower.com and CD Baby www.cdbaby.com.

Almighty Love Noise band members include Swan the lead singer and songwriter, Craig DaNoise lead guitarist, Joe "Freeze" Townsend bass / keyboard player and J-Boom on Drums.
