ERP distributor established compelling executive Information Tool: Digital Dashboard. An easy tool for even non-technical staff

PR9.NET June 22, 2005 - PRONTO-Xi Digital Dashboard is a powerful new way to public PRONTO-Xi data in an easy to view format. According to Tom Verzi, Director of Marketing for the Minnesota-based ERP leader, "By using the browser interface, the Digital Dashboard gives staff a straightforward way to access business information without training." Because the interface is graphical, the Dashboard is more flexible in how information is presented; graphs, charts, and bitmaps can all be readily incorporated into the design.

Exception Reporting:

A compelling Executive Information Tool, the PRONTO-Xi Digital Dashboard has numerous and valuable features. The Financial KPI section of the Dashboard makes key financial metrics understandable by non-finance staff. It is easy to see that, where performance indicators are literally "in the red", corrective action is required. Green indicates that the performance is at or exceeding the required amount. The advantage of a "red light" to alert decision makes to points of stress in the organization make the Dashboard an unrivalled business tool.

The Key Benefits of Digital Dashboard:

- Increase staff productivity by giving people ready access to crucial PRONTO-Xi data.
- Publish data in the most appropriate format for people's job functions.
- Make more reliable business decisions faster by delivering only the most relevant PRONTO-Xi information.
- Improve profitability by increasing collaboration and avoiding duplication of work efforts.
