Recruitment software specialists, Swiftpro launch a free, trialware version of CVPlus Medical.

PR9.NET June 30, 2005 - Healthcare continues to suffer from a skills shortage of pandemic proportions. In the UK alone the Department of Health needs to recruit more than 15000 doctors, 35000 nurses and 30000 therapists, researchers and scientists. In the US things are even worse, where forecasts suggest a shortage of 50000 physicians by 2010. In such a hotly contested sector as medical recruitment, where recruiters face global competition for the best talent, you need software that gives you the edge. CVPlus Medical recruitment software offers you a high level of process automation and extensive range of recruitment tools including automated CV importing, powerful search and match capabilities, desktop communications centre, advanced applicant checks and job tracker.

As leading providers of advanced recruitment software and services, Swiftpro is pleased to announce the launch of a free, trialware version of CVPlus Medical. From today, you can download a completely free, fully functional, evaluation copy of CVPlus Medical recruitment software from sites such as www.freebizfiles.com, www.hotlib.com and www.popsoftlib.com.

In the coming weeks Swiftpro will upload the software to over 400 freeware and shareware sites. For those working in permanent, search and select, recruitment to recruitment and temporary staffing, you can find a trialware version of CVPlus Medical on another 700 sites.

Specifically customised for temporary, locum and permanent medical recruiters, CVPlus Medical enables you to consistently find the best applicants from among thousands of records within seconds. Conduct fast, detailed searches from a single form using key skills, qualifications, location, post codes and random criteria.

The software then allows you to produce applicant short-lists at the touch of a button, and email, fax or post selected CVs/resumes to clients directly. All records and activity notes are updated automatically by the system. The CVPlus Medical search and match facility saves time, improves responsiveness and shortens the recruitment cycle. CVPlus Medical ensures that you can always find the best candidate for the job, quickly and efficiently.

CVPlus Medical Key Features include:

Automated CV/resume processing

CVPlus Medical creates fully skilled new candidate records with all contact details from imported CVs/resumes automatically improving efficiency and accuracy.

Business communications

You can send email, letter, fax and SMS messages directly from your desktop at the touch of a button, saving you time and effort.

Quick CV Dispatch

Especially useful for responding to urgent temporary assignments, Quick CV Dispatch allows you to select a candidate's CV/resume and send to a client for a job as a smooth, one-click process.

Search and match

Optimised for medical terminology, CVPlus Medical offers sophisticated search and match facilities to ensure consultants always find the best available candidate for the job, quickly and accurately.

Advanced applicant checks

Make sure that applicants hold the right legal and professional documents, such as right to work visas, required vaccinations, criminal clearance and medical registration forms.

In-depth applicant profiles

As well as key contact details, CVPlus Medical's applicant files hold a vast amount of background information including employer references, health status, driving qualifications, bank, PAYE, FPS and CCS details.

Job tracker

Monitor every stage of the recruitment process from entering a job, search, match, send CV/resume, optional interview, and placement – all from a single screen. At the end of a placement, a temp or locum's record is automatically returned to available status.

Pricing

Swiftpro offers highly competitive prices at just £595 per user licence.
