DreamWerks Design Studio to Use Cyberlux Aeon as Solid-State Lighting Solution in Kitchen Cabinet Line

PR9.NET August 02, 2005 - Cyberlux Corporation announces that DreamWerks Design Studio, a custom kitchen cabinet manufacturer, has committed to use the Aeon Pro product as the lighting solution in all of its Aero-Strata contemporary kitchen cabinet line of products.

The Aero-Strata custom kitchen line of products is the contemporary kitchen cabinet solution that DreamWerks Design Studios produces for its discriminating customers who expect the best quality and the latest design innovations. As a lighting solution, the Aeon Pro solid-state task and accent lighting products address the three pervasive problems with traditional task and accent lighting -- short operating life, significant heat generation and energy inefficiency. The Aeon Pro products are maintenance-free with an industry-leading 15-year light-life guarantee, generate virtually no heat during extended operation and are energy-efficient, including the Aeon Pro E line which has exceeded California's Title 24 energy efficiency standards.

The Aeon task and accent lighting products are made with solid-state diodal elements and do not require bulbs. The result is a product that is maintenance-free, cool to the touch with long-lasting energy-efficiency. The Cyberlux Aeon Pro line provides the choice of a warm, 3000K white light or a cool, 5000K white light selection. With lighting sizes from 8 inches to 48 inches, the Aeon Pro products start at an average of $100 per unit.

Aeon dealers have strongly supported the introduction of the Aeon solid-state task and accent lighting products, including dealers in the top North American housing markets such as greater Chicago, Memphis, San Diego, San Francisco, Tampa, Sonoma County, and Toronto. The Aeon sales network is comprised of dealers and lighting industry professionals who meet a range of criteria including their market reach, years in business, annual revenue, customer base and their ability to effectively represent Aeon products with Cyberlux solid-state lighting technology.

Cyberlux is continuing to qualify dealers across the country to join its Aeon sales network. With dealers now in the top 25 North American housing markets, the Aeon dealer channel is expanding to cover the top 50 North American housing markets.
