Portland, Oregon, USA – www.maileverything.com (Chicago, IL) moved their corporate, intranet, and extranet website solutions to the www.portlandportals.us Rent-A-Portal service today as their new Metadot host.

PR9.NET September 12, 2005 - The Portland Portals Rent-a-Portal service allows small and medium size firms to benefit from the collaboration tools used by large corporations and governments, without the usual large investment required for similar solutions. Based on the Metadot Portal Server, an open source intranet/extranet solution, the Rent-A-Portal product is perfect for small and medium sized companies sharing data with their internal teams, and external partners and clients.

The Metadot Portal Server allows management of files with submission and document control, sharing discussions, calendars, task lists, plus much more, all within a user and group structure, with username and password protection. Companies can offload website content management to employees or contractors responsible for the information, post project progress to internal and external teams and partners, and notify each subscriber to what's new. Due to its ease of use and intuitive web based interface, adding information to the portal is straight forward, and end users can benefit with simple browser based access.

"Using the Metadot Rent-A-Portal has created a community of clients who enjoy the products and services we offer" said Mary Trifunovich, President of Mail Everything, Inc. "We can service our clients; allow them to communicate with us, while meeting their mailing needs. We are excited to offer this new service level".
