PR9.NET September 19, 2005 - Hoo Technologies has released Net Meter v3.0; it's a powerful and easy-to-use bandwidth meter. It monitors traffic of all network connections and displays real-time graphical and numerical data transfer rates. Net Meter can display detail of multiple network connections at the same time. It records all network traffic and includes extensive logging (daily, weekly and monthly) and traffic events. Net Meter works with virtually all types of network connections including phone modems, DSL, cable modem, LAN, satellite and more.

Top 7 Benefits of Net Meter:

1. Monitors traffic of all network connections and displays real-time graphical and numerical data transfer rates.
2. Let you easy to know data transfer rates when you download or upload a file.
3. Displays bandwidth consumption. It's very useful if you've been the victim of SpyWare or an unauthorized program is accessing network resources.
4. Displays traffic of multiple network connections at the same time.
5. Lets you easy to know whether some dangerous or unexpected network activity is occurring while you are online.
6. Lets you immediately see if someone is accessing your computer and transferring on a LAN or local network.
7. Let you know how many bytes you downloaded and uploaded in daily, weekly and monthly.

Net Meter v3.0 runs under Windows 98/Me/NT4.x/2000/XP/2003, costs $19.95(US) for a single-user license, and may be purchased securely from <http://www.hootech.com/NetMeter/Purchase/>. All future updates are available without cost to registered users. You can download a trial version from the same web site. Multi-user, educational, and nonprofit discounts are available.
