Broadband Genie adds PIPEX to its database of broadband providers

PR9.NET November 11, 2005 - PIPEX, the UK's oldest internet service provider, has become the latest major broadband provider to have its broadband products listed on Broadband Genie ( <http://www.broadbandgenie.co.uk/> ), the web-based service which allows consumers to compare broadband from the UK's leading suppliers.

As the UK's first commercial ISP, PIPEX has been a market leader for over a decade. The PIPEX Dial-up network was the first to offer nationwide connection speeds at 33,600bps and 56k V90, and last month announced the acquisition of broadband ISP Freedom to Surf, further strengthening its broadband offering to new and existing customers.

Broadband Genie customers can now choose from the following new broadband packages:

- * PIPEX start, up to 2Mb speeds, includes free 500 minutes per month of home phone calls (optional), £14.99/month.
- * PIPEX 1000, up 2Mb speeds (special offer), includes free 1,000 minutes per month of home phone calls (optional), £19.99/month for first six months (£23.99/month thereafter).
- * PIPEX 2000, up 2Mb speeds, includes free 2,000 minutes per month of home phone calls (optional), £27.99/month for first six months (£33.99/month thereafter).

Philip Wilkinson, Broadband Genie CEO, said:

"We're delighted to welcome PIPEX into the magic lamp. The Broadband Genie is all about matching consumers' needs with the right broadband providers, and PIPEX offers some really attractive broadband packages that will give our customers even greater choice."
