Singapore Internet Web Hosting Provider 8 to Infinity Pte Ltd (www.8.to) forms a Research and Development Division to further enhanced its services

PR9.NET November 20, 2005 - "Given the intensity of competition in the web hosting arena, prices are falling and hosting is regarded as more of a commodity than services. 8 to Infinity hopes that but having more research done on the web hosting technologies, we are able to enhance our service level and move up the value chain" said Lim Boon Chuan, Chief Technical Officer of 8 to Infinity.

The core competencies that 8 to Infinity would like to focus on would be on the area of server redundancy, load balancing and firewall solutions. They hope to fully utilise existing technologies as well as develop new solutions in the web hosting fields. They wanted to be specialised in the few areas they chose rather than to try to be jack of all trades. For areas where they do not have a core competency, they would team with other research companies that have the necessary technologies.
