Cash Drawer Control Offered by PRONTO North America

PR9.NET November 22, 2005 - According to Mike Ligudzinski, CEO of PRONTO North America, "Each cash drawer configuration is user-definable. A variety of sales functions including layaway processing, backorder processing, price discounting can be made accessible or excluded from selection. Depending on the business processes, functions can be set with specific security access, requiring supervisor validation."

PRONTO-Xi controls both the physical and financial handling of transactions made to a cash drawer. Transactions posted to a cash drawer during a shift, are identified by a unique batch number. The system automatically accrues as receipts are processed through the drawer. This allows the operator to reconcile the contents of the drawer against the recorded totals at a convenient time. At the end of the shift, the operation can close the cash drawer and bank the takings for the shift. Full cash drawer reconciliation allows tracking any settlement differences and post the necessary transactions to the General Ledger.
