

New freeware promised more exciting IM talks

fbird, December 01, 2005

URL: <http://www.pr9.net/comp/software/3059december.html>

Fbird announced a new IM add-on program available to all IM talkers. No matter you talk over Skype, Msn, Gtalk, Yahoo Messenger, AIM or QQ, you can make use of it.

PR9.NET December 01, 2005 - Fbird announced a new IM add-on program available to all IM talkers. No matter you talk over Skype, Msn, Gtalk, Yahoo Messenger, AIM or QQ, you can make use of it. vEmotion makes your IM talks even more exciting.

To show what can vEmotion do, following words were cited from their website www.voiceemotion.com:

- Send voice emotions/sound effects to your friends who take part in an IM call/conference. Anything you have inconvenience in expressing it with your mouth or text, you can communicate it by voice emotions.
- Set background music for a call/conference. Listen to music while place a call or take part in a conference, isn't it a wonderful experience? Furthermore, the music is shared among you and your friends.

Yes, these features are all wanted, especially by those teen-ages. People talk over IMs can run vEmotion to give their friends a pleasant surprise or practise a romantic experience with their lovers.

Furthermore, thanks to the programmers' cute work, vEmotion was dead user-friendly designed. Who can use Windows will get at home with it within less than one minute.

Released just two days ago, vEmotion has drawn much public attention. Many visitors to their website have been running the program now. Merely some AIM or QQ fans complained that they didn't see it works. It was reported that those users will be accommodated at next release.

For alive details, you can go to www.voiceemotion.com

###

About fbird

fbird is a developing team dedicate to IM applications.

Website: <http://www.voiceemotion.com>

E-Mail: vemotion@gmail.com