

Australian based business launches Global Finance Directory

Myfinancedirectory.com, December 07, 2005

URL: <http://www.pr9.net/business/financial/3118december.html>

www.myfinancedirectory.com is now live and offering a niche finance resource.

PR9.NET December 07, 2005 - Targeted purely at the financial sector Myfinancedirectory.com is out to provide a resource for anyone in the financial market or looking for financial services or information. The overall theme of the site is to provide information and resources with a global perspective for the financial sector covering commercial and personal finance.

Categories of the site are broken into topic or industry sector for easy navigation and fast location of products or services required. The directory is constantly expanding with new categories added as required and new services being added with up to the minute financial news coming online in the new year.

Myfinancedirectory.com also includes an article repository for finance journalists and industry professionals allowing them to post articles and news online with credits and links back to the author. This also provides an excellent resource for consumers of the site being able to access independent articles relating to the finance field. Other webmasters and online newsreaders will have access to this content via RSS, further promoting the author. Authors are required to sign up for free membership and submitted articles are reviewed for relevancy, quality, originality and authenticity prior to acceptance.

The directory itself is only accepting and searching for quality listings related to the financial sector that are scrutinised by a pre submission process and post submission editorial review. Sites are reviewed for current popularity, content, design and uniqueness within the directory prior to approval.

Quality sites are welcome to submit and be part of a marketed niche financial resource.

###

About Myfinancedirectory.com

"Located in locally in Queensland, Australia and acting globally in providing quality internet driven resources for the financial sector" - Rod Charles L'Huillier - www.myfinancedirectory.com

Website: <http://www.myfinancedirectory.com>
E-Mail: webmaster@myfinancedirectory.com

PR9.NET - Your Free Press Release Service