

Alena Cosmetics a New Website Powered by Pamil Visions

Pamil Visions, December 08, 2005

URL: <http://www.pr9.net/business/marketing/3172december.html>

Pamil Visions has recently launched a new website: Alena Cosmetics. The Romanian client requested a modern three-columns template to present comprehensive information about the Hemel natural products to the Romanian market.

PR9.NET December 08, 2005 - Nenad Miljkovic founded System Hemel International in 1991, a MLM business. This company manufactures and distributes, through a network of collaborators, natural cosmetic products. The main ingredients are honey, beeswax, vegetal oils, and natural vitamins. No chemical conserving compounds are used in the manufacturing process. Pure nature for a healthy living.

Alena Hajko approaches the MLM for the first time and her success is already measurable. She decided to increase her own network of clients and collaborators thru an online business.

The original design gives the web pages a fresh visual appearance, making the site attractive, readable and accessible to all the users.

The author, Emil Maran, web coder and freelance consultant, said: "The site reflects the Romanian market tendencies. Many consumers asked Alena Cosmetics to provide information online. We went further: we created an online shop as well. The Multilevel Marketing or Network Marketing is quite a trend in Romania. Here the system works, is successful and many young people are involved in such a business. To understand why the system works here means to understand the Romanian market and its economical and social issues. As Pamil Visions combines PR and branding design, we understand how important it is for a website to reflect the necessities of the public."

The new web site can be viewed at <http://www.alenacosmetics.rounite.com/>

###

About Alena Cosmetics

Alena Cosmetics is a MLM business based in Romania. Alena Hajko approaches the MLM for the first time and her success is already measurable. She decided to increase her own network of clients and collaborators thru an online business.

About Pamil Visions

Pamil Visions is a concept created to help small or young organizations - and not only - make a good start and progress faster while learning how to deal with the competition without being afraid of losing potential customers.

Website: <http://www.pamil-visions.com/>