

Grey Sky Films Announces the hiring of Advanced Business Solutions.

Advanced Business Solutions, March 27, 2006

URL: <http://www.pr9.net/ent/entertainment/3647march.html>

An independent New Jersey video and film company that makes music videos for MTV and FUSE TV hires premiere sports and entertainment Marketing and Public Relations company.

PR9.NET March 27, 2006 - Hasbrouck Heights, NJ – Grey Sky Films of Rockaway, New Jersey and Advanced Business Solutions, headquartered in Hasbrouck Heights, New Jersey have entered into an agreement making Advanced Business Solutions the official marketing and public relations company for Grey Sky Films.

Grey Sky Films is an independent film company owned by Chris Vaglio and Mark Serao, both who are graduates of William Paterson University and who have gone on to produce, direct and edit music videos for bands My Chemical Romance, The Blackout Pact, The Spill Canvas, and various major label and independent companies. Grey Sky has also produced commercial work for a variety of New Jersey and New York based corporations.

"Our ongoing goal is to grow and expand the company to the highest level possible. We want to continue to do Music Videos and Feature Films and work with the coolest people in this industry. That would be the Holy Grail for us." said Chris Vaglio, Co-owner of Grey Sky." "I am very pleased to announce the hiring of Advanced Business Solutions, a company that possesses the experience and expertise that will take us to a whole new level."

Advanced Business Solutions is the exclusive management company for Perry Williams, two-times Super Bowl champion with the New York Giants and for The King and His Court® sports-entertainment company. Advanced Business Solution's Director of Business Development Stan Miller was recently quoted as saying, "Grey Sky Films is owned by a couple of determined visionaries with a work ethic and level of expertise that assures them of a place atop their profession."

"I really look forward to working with Grey Sky Films" said Phil Renshaw, CEO & Founder of Advanced Business Solutions. "This company is extremely marketable and I have no doubt that once we open the doors for them, their work will speak for itself." said Renshaw.

"We recently wrapped shooting on 'the making of the video" for the band Thursday's "Count 54321" music video for Refused TV" said Mark Serao, Co-owner of Grey Sky.

Grey Sky Films also shot documentary footage for Thursday while they were in the studio recording their new record for Island Records, which is presently featured on www.thursday.net, the official Thursday band website.

"We have worked tirelessly to build a solid foundation and we are ready to take our operations to the next level" said Serao and Vaglio. "We're excited with this recent hiring of one of the premier marketing companies in the nation" said Grey Sky Owners Serao and Vaglio.

###

About Grey Sky Films

Grey Sky Films is an independent film company owned by Chris Vaglio and Mark Serao, both who are graduates of William Paterson University and who have gone on to produce, direct and edit music videos for bands My Chemical Romance, The Blackout Pact, The Spill Canvas, and various major label and independent companies. Grey Sky has also produced commercial work for a variety of New Jersey and New York based corporations.

About Advanced Business Solutions

New Jersey's Premier Sports and Entertainment Marketing and PR company.

Phone:	201-288-8700
FAX:	201-288-8704
Website:	http://www.advancedbizsolutions.com
E-Mail:	smiller@advancedbizsolutions.com
Address:	249 Boulevard Hasbrouck Heights, NJ 07604