There's been a new forum launched for the hit ABC tv show LOST called LostConfidential.com. This is a place for viewers and fans to discuss rumors, episodes, spoilers, theories and more!

PR9.NET February 02, 2006 - Santa Clara, CA - There is a new 'LOST' forum in town. A group of fans have unveiled a new forum for fans of the hit ABC show 'LOST' called Lost Confidential. The forum can be found at <http://www.lostconfidential.com> and was launched yesterday. Lost Confidential contains various forums and subforums that allow fans to discuss anything from episodes, theories, and music.

There is a section on this site titled "Confidential," and includes forums including "Theories," "Spoilers," "Rumors," "Previews," and "References." These are all topics that the creators of the site view as things not everyone may want to see, depending on their willingness to read what might reveal what is to come in future episodes. This "Confidential" section plays into the site's name.

Users of the site are able to post and read about almost any 'LOST'-related topic and even subjects that are completely unrelated to the show. After viewers of the show have seen an episode, they can go to the Lost Confidential and post their reactions and thoughts on the subforum created for that episode. Users can also talk about individual characters and the romance brewing between some of them in the related sections, and can also view some news regarding the show in the "News" forum. For those who want to voice their thoughts on things not related to the show, there is a "Recreation" section where users can talk about music, movies, other TV shows, and anything else they want.

This is a convenient spot for 'LOST' fans to come together and share their ideas and reactions while getting the chance to read what other people think. The site already has a list of members who have joined, and a substantial number of topics and posts since it launched yesterday.

Lostconfidential.com (<http://www.lostconfidential.com>) aims to be a welcoming and open place for fans of 'LOST' to talk and communicate with each other about the show and other aspects of their lives. For more information please contact editor@lostconfidential.com
