FEECO International has just released its new technology based website. Some of the changes include: an innovative look, enhanced graphics, new and updated information on the company, tradeshow, and industry.

PR9.NET May 26, 2006 - Green Bay, WI - FEECO International has released its new website on May 26th 2006. The new look and feel of the website is technology based. We are a technology based company and want our customers to know that we offer them the latest technology.

FEECO International, Inc has been supplying companies globally for 55 years with equipment such as Rotary Dryers / Coolers, Pin Mixers, Disc Pelletizers, Material Handling Equipment, Process Systems, Rotary Calciners, Rotary Coolers / Dryers, Rotary Kilns and more.

Some of the new features www.FEECO.com will provide include: "Important Issues" our industry and consumers are facing, Company Announcements, Tradeshow FEECO will be attending and more features are in the making.

Some of FEECO International's advanced technology includes 2-D drawings created in Autodesk, and 3-D Solids which let you visualize your equipment. All of these which are produced by highly trained engineers. FEECO also has a state of the art testing laboratory which consists of a pilot plant, tolling production plant and analytical laboratory. With this fully equipped lab, FEECO'S engineers and technicians can conduct feasibility tests to determine if your process is physically and economically feasible and whether your material handling equipment is suitable to the application.

FEECO is also proudly celebrating its 55th anniversary in 2006.
