SeeBeforeYouDie.net bring pictures and trip reviews from must see places around the world, edited and ranked by people who love to travel. You can also share your experience and the places you love.

PR9.NET June 15, 2006 - USA/IL: SeeBeforeYouDie.net released a new tool that display picture of daily selected place from the SeeBeforeYouDie.net website on Google's personalized home page. Once added, this gadget will color the users' Google home page with pictures of must see places around the world.

SeeBeforeYouDie.net is a Web site that presents collection of places around the world that were recommended and ranked by the site's visitors. SeeBeforeYouDie.net provides an open platform for people who love to travel around the world and want to share pictures and information about their favorite places with others. The site is a meeting place for those who are looking for places they must see in their next trip and for travelers who want to share their travel experience with others.

One of the key features of the site is the user ranking. This easy to use tool help visitors not only to see recommended places but also to know how it is ranked compare to other places. The ranking that is constantly done by the travelers' community and not by an editor, represent the priorities of the travelers without any influence of commercial interests.

Established on December 2004, SeeBeforeYouDie.net was developed to enable users that want to share pictures and information about places they believe are must see, and participate in ranking these places with minimum efforts. The site has simple and clear user interface, which makes it easy to navigate and operate. Full working version of the site was launched on March 2006.
