PR9.NET June 30, 2006 - Nicosia, Cyprus - Audio4fun has just launched a brand-new webcam software named Webcam Morpher as an ideal tool for those who want to enjoy fun in video chat at <http://mp3-player.audio4fun.com/dj-music.htm>.

This unique software allows users to replace nickfaces, change nickvoices, apply video and audio effects in real-time. Compatible with most of the audio/video chat applications, Webcam Morpher is an easy-to-use software that introduces you to a new way of spending time on the cyber world.

This Silver edition offers you 5 nickfaces of both male and female. 'Nickface' is a new concept that can be understood as a mask that you wear or a character that you perform in video chat. These "persons" do not only sit and type but also show various emotions and actions such as "Hello", "Smile", "Laugh", "Agree", "Disagree", "Kiss", "Disappointed", "Cool", "Surprised", etc. Terry Jin – Lab Manager – said happily, "We call our lovely product "Face Changer." Our first buyers seem very interested in these nickfaces. This shows our success in satisfying customers' need in this new entertainment industry."

Besides choosing a new appearance, you can also select a suitable voice to create your stylish personality. There are now 10 pre-set "nickvoices" available for you to try, but you can also make use of your talent to produce as many unique voices as possible. The combination of "nickface" and "nickvoice" is considered as one of the most intelligent works by the technical team in applying the current best Audio4fun voice changing technology to this new entertainment trend of online video chat.

One more important function of this webcam software lies in its capability to produce high quality recorded movies. The diversified collections of video and audio effects give you a wide range of choices to perform as a pro-chatter and save your memorable moments in any way you wish.

"There is no need to have a real webcam, no need to worry about your privacy. Webcam Morpher is really an ideal application for you in the online world," said Helen Le, Audio4fun Sales and Marketing Manager. "In order to fulfill many zealous contributions from the dearest customers who were the first to try this webcam software, we are now enriching the nickface library and will soon give out some fabulous packages in which current nickfaces are able to change their clothes and express more cool actions."
