Technology Group International a ERP software Company, Joins the North American Building Material Distribution Association

PR9.NET July 10, 2006 - Toledo, OH - Technology Group International (TGI), a leading ERP software solution provider, today announced that it has recently joined the North American Building Material Distribution Association to strengthen its focus on the building products industry.

As a developer of enterprise software solutions for small to medium size firms, TGI's install base includes a number of companies who manufacturer or distribute products within the building materials industry. To show support of these customers and to enhance TGI's industry knowledge, TGI has become an active member of the association.

Scott Smith, President and CEO of TGI, states "Joining the NBMDA was originally a suggestion of one of our customers. As with much of our customer interaction, we take their suggestions and comments seriously. If being a member of this association can help TGI enrich its product offering for our customers within the building materials industry, then this is where TGI needs to be. We hope to provide our expertise, as well as learn more about the complex issues these manufacturers and distributors deal with each day."

In addition to the NBMDA, TGI is also a member of The Association for Operations Management (APICS), National Association of Wholesaler-Distributors (NAW), and National Association of Manufacturers (NAM). In addition to general participation in these organizations, TGI will also participate in industry events, conferences, and trade shows are they are available.
