PBXEQ provides the right equipment for small businesses' IP PBX systems needed as technology continuously develops.

PR9.NET July 20, 2006 - Canton, Mi – Businesses today are as dynamic as technology and the internet. Small businesses look promising and they develop sporadically. Now, small businesses are found almost everywhere. This may be brought about by man's instinct to trade and to earn wealth. But whatever happens, every entrepreneur wants maximum profit at the minimum costs. What a better way to cut costs, than by reducing telecommunication costs, especially in small businesses with high mobile and toll usage.

The period between 2005 and 2010 is forecasted to reach the apex of data and network technology. And not only small businesses are taking part in the VoIP hype but also the top multinational firms. Companies of different sorts and sizes have bypassed the experimental level of IP Based PBX Systems. In fact, they are now instigating these systems in their corporations. Consequently, VoIP companies flourish given this trend – and PBXEQ is of them.

PBXEQ recognized this trend and aims to provide your small business with the right equipment that suit your IP PBX needs. PBXEQ offers a wide range of VoIP and telephony equipment. PBXEQ's line of industry-renowned manufacturers offers small businesses the option. And that is PBXEQ's commitment – to give customers value for their money through quality and highly-featured VoIP equipment.

PBXEQ, established in 2005, started out with only a dozen manufacturers. PBXEQ was able to double the number of their manufacturers within a short span of time. This exemplifies the trustworthiness of suppliers towards PBXEQ. And now, its PBXEQ's turn to gain your trust.
