Punta Gorda Florida real estate has gotten hotter in a different way than usual. Real estate in Florida's Punta Gorda area is alive with new information and opportunities.

PR9.NET August 03, 2006 - Punta Gorda; For those seeking to sell or buy real estate in the Punta Gorda area, it's important to first check out all the facts essential for success. The best source for these facts has just gotten better since the Number One Punta Gorda real estate agency, PGI Realtors, became inducted in the "President Elite Circle." At a recent awards ceremony, both Marcia Blackwell and Beverly Goad of the agency were recognized for having sold over $15 million in Punta Gorda area real estate for the year 2005.

As two of the top respected real estate agents in Punta Gorda, Florida, both Marcia and Beverly aren't content to rest on their laurels. Both have just completed their GRI (Graduate Realtor Institute) designations, and are currently working on their CRS (Certified Residential Specialist) designations. According to PGI Realtors' Marcia Blackwell, "Beverly Goad and I are always striving to better ourselves, not just to benefit our clients, but also our community and our trade. I think that is why we make such a great team ... we share the same goals."

One way of bettering their community and their real estate profession is by staying connected in the community and participating in local Punta Gorda events. Their company is in the process of building a Habitat for Humanity house which should be completed by the end of the year. In addition, Marcia has just written an article, "Tips for Sellers" which was published in their local paper, and can be seen on their website (www.pgirealtor.com/Sellingahome.aspx). She will be contributing articles four times a year.

This dedication to serving their profession and their community is immediately apparent to those who contact them for information when considering the purchase of real estate in Punta Gorda. Ms. Blackwell states, "Just call or email us and we'll send our free relocation package, complete with maps, general information, demographics and a DVD of the area. We have a wonderful, friendly community, and would love to help make people feel welcome here."
