PR9.NET August 18, 2006 - Nicosia, Cyprus- Audio4fun has just updated its current flagship software Voice Changer Software to serve many educational projects better and better. More information can be found at <http://www.audio4fun.com/voice-over.htm>.

Voice Changer Software has been considered as a unique tool or weapon for both online and offline users to have fun with their various voice and music purposes. Most of Audio4fun customers apply this software mainly for entertainment intentions, such as voice chat, online game, voice dubbing, voice greeting, etc. However, Voice Changer Software is now made known as a useful high-tech teaching aid to support your education jobs.

With the 2-dimensional Pitch and Timbre changing tool, teachers can create many voices to turn a reading class into a very enjoyable time for pupils and students. Instead of asking some students in class to read the story or narrative, teachers can turn their recorded audio files on. The students will surely be surprised and attracted by the multi-voices in multi-characters of the stories. You may find Voice Changer Software very helpful in improving your students' reading skill and interest in the lesson. Moreover, this is also an ideal illustrative tool in education which best draws students' attention in class.

If you are a music teacher, you are creative enough to discover the information technology. So let Voice Changer Software make your lessons more delicious than ever. With only some simple acts such as changing Pitch and Timbre, adjusting Advanced Equalizer tool, controlling Sound Quality, applying sound effects, you can morph and edit any melodies, songs, or pieces of music that you want and begin to fascinate your class.

The result of a small survey among some multimedia schools in US shows that teachers and students are both interested in Voice Changer Software. The students find that they are very much relieved from anxiety and boredom since all lessons are like games. In other hand, teachers are very fond of using this high-tech teaching aid because it saves their time in preparing their lesson plans and make them more enthusiastic in imparting knowledge to their students.
