

StealthSubmit - The newest press release submission utility for busy PR professionals

jiffycast, August 28, 2006

URL: <http://www.pr9.net/business/marketing/4342august.html>

StealthSubmit has finally arrived! StealthSubmit is press release posting software that helps to automate the tedious and repetitive tasks of posting to the Internet. This utility is enabling busy communications professionals to post press releases to over 60 websites in minutes -- an activity that used to take hours and even days!

PR9.NET August 28, 2006 - New York, NY and Vancouver, BC - MediaSyndicate.com announced today the launch of its premier press release posting software called StealthSubmit. The revolutionary press release posting software is already gaining universal acceptance among PR professionals, and is garnering praise from from a wide spectrum of industry personnel.

StealthSubmit is a windows-based program that semi-automates the tedious tasks of logging into websites, filling out web forms with PR content, and submitting the content for inclusion to news websites. Additionally, the software maintains a directory of 60+ sites to maximize PR message distribution. StealthSubmit enables a PR professional to write a press release once, and submit the final copy to dozens of news websites in minutes. What normally would take at least six to eight hours, The StealthSubmit software accomplishes in approximately one hour!

This software utility is not to be confused with typical email distribution services that send your press releases to reporters directly. Rather, it posts content on sites like MediaSyndicate.com which is more of a news hub. Press releases are then aggregated by topic and syndicated to and by news portals such as Google News, Yahoo news, and so on to other websites around the world.

The software is also particularly useful to anyone interested in search engine optimization because it is built on the same concept as many search engine submission utilities, and article submission tools. The StealthSubmit software, however, contains a comprehensive database of sites that are designed to accept and publish press releases.

The StealthSubmit software is available from <http://www.StealthSubmit.com/PR/> at an introductory price of $44.95. This price also includes several undisclosed bonuses and a year's worth of upgrades.

For more information, contact:

Mark Pivon
MediaSyndicate.com
West Coast - US and Canada
604-726-5569
mpivon(at)mediasyndicate(dot)com

###

About MediaSyndicate

StealthSubmit helps to automate the repetitive process of filling out forms when completing a press release submission to the many websites that receive news releases every day.

About jiffycast

Jiffycast is a web-based support tool to help public relations professionals to automatically submit press releases to multiple news hubs accessed by journalists. Jiffycast is a service offered by MediaSyndicate.com

Website: <http://www.JiffyCast.com>

PR9.NET - Your Free Press Release Service