TheBizStation, Inc. (TBSI) a Philippine based consulting firm and outsourcing provider, launches today! It offers services in Legal, Marketing, Information Technology (IT), Office Support and Administration for companies local and abroad. It actively participates in the Philippines outsourcing industry and in serving foreign companies that need to set up or expand their business presence in the Philippines. TBSI provides outstanding service cost efficiently, without comprising quality.

PR9.NET September 27, 2006 - Manila, Philippines - TheBizStation, Inc.(TBSI) has a pool of young, dynamic, talented and dedicated consultants with more than 60 years of work experience combined. It's philosophy "Excellent outlook, excellent results" is what guides them to be committed to ensuring clients' business success through the efficient delivery of high quality services.

The most important strength of the TBSI is the diversified services it provides its clients, all in one place, to fulfill latest market trends and demands for a successful business.

Their key consultants are Atty. Romeo Fabregas for legal, Ms. Zammerly Zamudio for Marketing and Mr. Andy Henkel for Information Technology.

Atty. Romy Fabregas is a member the Integrated Bar of the Philippines. He served as Court Attorney at the Supreme Court for ten years, before he pursued private practice in 2004. He specializes in civil litigation, family relations, settlement of estate and cases involving commercial transactions. He has been exposed significantly in appellate practice and its nuances, contract review and drafting, incorporation and setting up of business entities, collection cases, settlement of estate of deceased persons, immigration-related matters and procurement of work permits, money claims and labor disputes besetting the management-employee. He advises clients on various legal matters, legal documentation and day-to-day legal needs. He has a Law degree from the University of the Philippines.

Ms. Zammerly Zamudio, also the Managing Director of TBSI, has been in the marketing industry for more than 15 years now. She was based in Dubai, working as a marketing consultant, for four years. She's an out of the box thinker and has very good attention to details. She's also creative and resourceful. She is privileged to have worked with companies such as The Dubai Islamic Bank, Prima Facie Advertising and Marketing, French Vision Advertising and Marketing and many diverse clients. Her specializations in marketing are found in strategizing, research, brand building, design and communication. She has a pool of hard working, talented, creative and professional technical writers, designers and programmers working with her, as there are many areas of marketing and information technology that are intertwined. Her designers and programmers have worked with local and international companies such as Hewlett Packard, IBM, Toyota, Jollibee, Honda, Smart Communications, Keno Lottery, and so many others.

Mr. Andy Henkel brings over twelve years of extensive experience in software development, database design, and project management. Having worked on projects in the U.S., Europe, South East Asia and back in New Zealand, he has a unique global perspective that is invaluable to clients. He is also highly specialized in the development of Marine Cargo Applications. He holds a Bachelor of Science degree majoring in Computer Science from Victoria University of Wellington in New Zealand. He can share with your organization his extensive and practical knowledge to help you get the most value out of technology.

Each of TBSI's consultants is highly qualified from the years of experience they have, through different environments, people they have worked with, demands and requirements of their clients. They have pooled together to offer their expertise in order to work together and contribute to the success of the clients. Each consultant has been in their respective industries for at least 10 years, doing what they do best.
