PR9.NET October 05, 2006 - Torrance, CA – GizMac Accessories, designer and manufacturer of innovative "Gizmos for your Lifestyle," starts shipment of their Titan Gear for the new Apple 2nd generation iPod Nano.

GizMac Accessories continues their Titan product line motto of "Cause Everyone Wears Their iPod Differently" with the release of Titan Gear for the new Apple Nano iPod. The included carabiner clip, armband, belt clip with 360-degree rotation and lanyard accessories provide a wide range of ways to wear and show off the anodized aluminum Apple iPod Nano.

Titan Gear goes even one step further with the number of ways the 2G Nano iPod can be worn. With the ability to easily change whether the top or the bottom of the aluminum iPod Nano faces upward or downward, the Titan Gear attachments provide unmatched flexibility for carrying Apple's newest iPod Nano.

"Apple developed colorful and strong aluminum bodies for the second generation Nano," says Tim Cave, LOAHS of GizMac Accessories, "so GizMac engineered a way to use our special attachments to securely and fashionably carry the new Nano several different ways while showing it off at the same time."

Titan Gear Nano iPod case attachments are modular, they provide the ability to easily upgrade and customize the Titan Gear for a more personalized look. Additional Titan Gear accessories will be introduced in the near future; details will be available at that time.
