CouponShare.com was founded by Jason Husman in the fall of 2003 from a simple idea based on a need he saw in the online shopping arena to help e-commerce consumers. An experienced web designer/developer, Jason's CouponShare.com site has evolved over the years into one of the top marketing coupon websites in the country. According to Jason, "CouponShare.com is based upon the premise that being able to share a great online deal is appealing and more exciting for the shopper. Not only does it provide the consumer with a great online experience, it also helps savvy shoppers save money." Sister site couponSeven.com was created in 2006 as a spin-off coupon site to reach a different demographic niche based upon consumer preferences. Special seasonal pages, such as Halloween and Christmas, are a quick way to compare the best merchant offers on couponSeven.com throughout the year. CouponsLTD.com is the parent company of CouponShare.com and couponSeven.com.
