Predator Marketing System Creates Opportunitys for Stay at Home Moms and many are now able to work a part time internet business at home.

PR9.NET October 10, 2006 - New Albany, Indiana - The Predator Marketing System was released with the idea that it would give more people access to a wealth building system that does not require sales skills, prospecting, making phone calls or working long hours. The Predator is perfect for stay at home moms or those seeking to work a part time business at home, and will work for anyone.

Predator opens the doors for many more people wanting to start their own online home based business. Predator reduces the risk of failure because of the lack of the proper knowledge and skills to close their sales. Now with Predator, everything is done for you, from generating the high caliber leads, drawing traffic to your website, to closing the sales for you. This ensures that even those with no skills or knowledge are able to succeed with this business. To ensure that each student or mentor gets started on the right foot, they receive a professionally designed website, that they can market their own home business, and also sell the Predator system itself and earn $3,000 or $1,000 per sale. Predator offers real products and live training support that gives the work at home business owner hands on training that teaches step-by-step internet marketing techniques to use in order to be successful in the work at home business industry.

Working at home offers as alternative for many stay at home moms and individuals who want to generate additional income, spend more time with family and become financially independent.

The launch of Predator TV advertisements will begin in mid October 2006. The TV advertisement will be focusing on the Predator System and will be run on several TV channels in the US, to include CNN, ESPN, Fox News, and TNT.
