For ages Florida has been a vacation hot-spot, but what so many of these travelers don't know about Florida is that along the pristine Gulf Coast sits a town called Naples that has all of the elegance, charm, and beauty of a painting. GoldenTravelGuides has announced Naples Florida as 2006 Beach Town of the Year because they consider it Florida's best kept secret with attractions galore, breathtaking beaches, top rated golf courses, and shopping, dining and entertainment venues sure to please even the most discriminating traveler.

PR9.NET October 10, 2006 - Naples, FL – Year-round many travelers flock to Florida for their long-awaited annual vacations, snowbirds head south to escape the North's rough winters, and student travelers hit the beach towns on the East Coast of Florida with wild enthusiasm in the spring. What most of these travelers don't know is that Florida's West Coast town of Naples is a world apart from the hustle and bustle of Florida's well-known beach cities like Daytona, Miami, and Ft. Lauderdale, which is why GoldenTravelGuides is declaring Naples, Florida as Beach Town of the Year for 2006.

GoldenTravelGuides and their travel agents, who are Naples Florida specialists, proclaim the reasons for the "Best Beach Town" designation as: 1) wide variety of beachfront lodging properties with everything from the Ritz Carlton to value priced family resorts like the Naples Beach & Golf Club, 2) the two shopping districts including the diversity and high-end exclusive shops of 5th Avenue and 3rd Avenue boasting one of the original Tommy Bahamas clothing store and restaurants, 3) the assortment of terrific golf courses and, 4) serene beaches – calm waters and warm sandy beaches.

This beach town definitely tops the list! Travelers seeking to enjoy a little unparalleled solitude among the unspoiled white sandy beaches, spectacular turquoise waters of the Gulf, and gently swaying palm trees must check out <http://www.NaplesBest.net> or call 1.866.807.5252 for more information about all the best that Naples, Florida has to offer vacation-goers.
