

Cost to Start Online Home Business Opportunity Paid for Entrepreneur by Woman in Business

ThatPRGuy.com, November 02, 2006

URL: <http://www.pr9.net/business/assoc/4716november.html>

A successful Internet entrepreneur is willing to pay the cost for someone else who wants to start a work-at-home business opportunity. This businesswoman will be a mentor, pay the cost, and do all the work.

PR9.NET November 02, 2006 - Irwin, PA -- Charlotte Luko found success in business on the Internet, and now she is a mentor to others who want to start a work-at-home business opportunity, and even pays their costs to get started.

"So many people dream of one day having a business on the Internet, but the cost and the time it takes to get started prevent many from doing that. I decided I would help others get into business by taking care of those two things for them," explained Luko, an Internet entrepreneur and business mentor.

There are many risks associated with starting an online business that can be run from home. Most have a start-up cost, operating costs, advertising and marketing costs, and the cost of time. Many people find that they cannot afford the money, or the time it takes to succeed.

"I've been making my full-time living on the Internet, and now I would like to help others accomplish the same success I have found. I can be their mentor, and I am so confident in my ability to start a business and make it successful that I will pay the cost to start it, run it, and advertise it. I will also get all the work done so they do not have to," said Luko.

Luko's partner is David M. Bresnahan, who has been running a successful online business for many years and teaches others to duplicate his efforts.

"Time and money are the two problems that get in the way of people starting their own business. Charlotte and I eliminate those problems. She pays the cost for someone to get in business, and I do all the work of running it. The new business owner just observes and learns," said Bresnahan.

The people who receive the help do not have to pay Luko and Bresnahan back, and they keep all the money they earn.

Bresnahan and Luko said they are taking advantage of the benefits of network marketing. When the people they help earn money through their new web site, Bresnahan and Luko make a commission as well. Because of that arrangement they are willing to do all the work and take on all the expense to help new people get started.

Luko has prepared a free report entitled "How to Make a 5 Figure Monthly Income" that details the business, how it works, and what she does to insure that there is no risk for anyone who wants to participate. The free report is sent by E-mail on request at <http://www.trafficwave.net/members/louisa58/report.html>.

Press release services provided by <http://www.ThatPRGuy.com>.

###

About ThatPRGuy.com

ThatPRGuy.com provides affordable press release and public relations services.

Phone: 603-522-0148
Website: <http://ThatPRGuy.com>
E-Mail: David@ThatPRGuy.com