OnlyOpenHouses.com has announced that they will be attending the Triple Play 2006 Realtor Convention and Trade Expo in Atlantic City this year.

PR9.NET November 11, 2006 - Marlton, New Jersey – OnlyOpenHouses.com has announced that they will be attending the Triple Play 2006 Realtor Convention and Trade Expo in Atlantic City this year. The convention is the largest of its kind in the United States, and provides real estate professionals with the opportunity to network with their peers while expanding their knowledge.

"At OnlyOpenHouses, we're constantly seeking to broaden our horizons, and stay up to date on the latest trends in the real estate industry," CEO John E. Collins Jr. said. "The Triple Play Expo gives us a great opportunity to learn from our colleagues, as well as pass on some of our own knowledge." Over 10,000 real estate professionals are expected to attend the expo, including agents, brokers, property owners and managers, as well as staff members from local real estate affiliations. More than 50 educational events and presentations by leading industry professionals give attendees the chance to learn the latest industry trends, and discover recent innovations in products and service offerings.

OnlyOpenHouses.com provides in-depth listings of available open houses by area, providing visitors easy access to up-to-date information on what's on show in their area. Borne out of Collins' frustration when conducting his own home search, OnlyOpenHouses.com seeks to make the process of finding open houses that suit the customer's need without having to wade through uninformative newspaper listings.

"My wife and I were looking for a new home, and going through various newspapers to find out what was available. It was an arduous process, made worse by the fact that by the time we did find houses to view, we'd realize that it was completely inappropriate to our needs," Collins explained. "Our website is the only one that lets people find open houses in their area, whether they're in the US or Canada, and gives them the detail that's lacking from newspaper listings, like size, photographs, even directions." Collins teamed up with fellow president and COO Jonathan Gropper to create a website that filled in the blanks, saving time and money in the process.

"By attending the Triple Play Expo, we have an excellent chance to learn the latest information. Being informed and up-to-date is critical in our business, and we're eager to learn from other professionals in the field," Gropper stated.
