Lancaster Pennsylvania offers families and couples a vacation getaway destination rich in history and things to see and do.

PR9.NET November 20, 2006 - Lancaster, PA – Travelers looking to plan a Pennsylvania getaway will find that Lancaster is a great place for both couples and families with its rich history and myriad of things to see and do.

Explore Pennsylvania's Amish country with a scenic buggy ride in the countryside or a visit to a historical site where guests relive history at places like the Railroad Museum of Pennsylvania. The area is home to many wonderful restaurants and dinner theaters where visitors can enjoy home-style family meals or fine dining. Playing a round of golf or getting a relaxing massage at a spa is a great way to escape life's everyday grind. Lancaster's local, treasure-filled antique shops and bargain outlet shops captivate shoppers with their unique wares and great finds. A taste of the country life is available to visitors who can pick up fresh produce and baked goods at the authentic farmer's markets.

Days of fun-filled entertainment await families at Dutch Wonderland and nearby Hershey Park. Young or old, a visit to Pennsylvania Dutch Country holds something exciting for everyone! Some Lancaster PA traveler favorites are the Pretzel Factory, American Music Theatre, Amish Country Tours, and Strasburg Railroad as well as numerous Lancaster museums including the National Toy Train Museum, Lancaster Quilt and Textile Museum, and the Amish Country Homestead. Now through January 1, the renowned Koziar's Christmas Village presents the "Greatest Christmas Display in the U.S.A.," a must see for all Lancaster Pennsylvania visitors.

While experiencing the Pennsylvania Amish Country's small town hospitality, visitors will be surrounded by a myriad of sightseeing pleasures, and end the day with a clean, comfortable Lancaster hotel in a variety of styles to suit every budget.
