Financial Expert Doreen Carter, Creator of Who Moved Money?®, Launched a New Website That Provides Free Information on How to Improve Your Credit and Wealth Building Resources.

PR9.NET November 20, 2006 - Lithonia, GA - Wealth & Wisdom Resource Group announces the launch of their new website, <http://www.whomoovedmymoney.com>. This new site provides free information to consumers on how to improve their credit scores and resources to create and maintain wealth. This information is only available from Wealth & Wisdom Resource Group's local community, but with this new, e-commerce capable website, it obtains up to date information and financial resources is easy to access by simply signing up for our free newsletter.

The new Wealth & Wisdom Resource Group website allows the company to deliver information in emails automatically to registered users. Consumers will not have to search for the information to deal with financial decisions; www.whomoovedmymoney.com has everything people are looking for. The site gives consumers a forum that provides simple and practical steps to improve their credit scores and develop a personal money management plan that will equip them to be financial free.

"Our new site will completely change how we do business" says Doreen Carter, CEO and Financial Educator of Wealth & Wisdom Resource Group. "We will be able to provide information and resources faster, and empower more people in a loving environment to create wealth. We believe that more people would make responsible financial decisions if they had the knowledge presented to them in a simple and practical way. We are revolutionizing the financial education industry."

Wealth & Wisdom Resource Group was recognized for the Innovative Concept in Business Award by the CEO Vernon Jones and Economic Development Office of DeKalb County, for their money management software program.

Here's what people are saying about the work, CEO, Doreen Carter is doing in the community:

"There are so many people who tell you what to do with your finances. Doreen Carter not only tells you, but she also shows you-both through her own life and by showing you how to apply her teachings to your specific situation. I have seen tangible change in my finances after learning from Doreen Carter, and I am extremely grateful."

Robin May
Entrepreneur and Author

"I recently attended Doreen Carter's session on a Godly Approach to Credit. It was truly a life-changing experience. Doreen's presentation completely changed my views and attitude towards credit and debt. Her upbeat personality and good spirit helped to make talking about a sometimes-tense subject, fun and interesting. I would recommend her seminars to anyone; know that your ideas about credit and debt will be forever changed for the better!"

Karen Sutton
Stewardship Team
New Birth-Charlotte

"The credit seminar was very informative. It was especially enlightening to understand and review our responsibilities toward the biblical handling of debt. Doreen Carter has a special way of setting the crowd at ease to discuss a very sensitive issue for most people. She was quite masterful at imparting the information to the group and getting them to change their attitudes about paying what they owe."
