Fast Transact, Inc., a leader in nationwide payment processing, today announced that it has partnered with InfoMerchant.net, a top-rated information provider for merchant account and check processing services.

PR9.NET November 22, 2006 - OLYMPIA, Wash – "FAST TRANSACT is pleased to have an affiliate partnership with InfoMerchant," said Fast Transact, Inc. CEO, David Solomon. "As we continue to see a growing need for merchants to accept credit cards, we also see those same merchants needing more than a single processing option or service within the industry. Our partnership with InfoMerchant brings together "one-stop shopping" for customized services and streamlines the merchant application process."

"InfoMerchant is an information portal that focuses on the policies and needs of product and development in the credit card processing industry," stated Steven Santos, Owner / Founder of InfoMerchant.net. "The idea is to give consumers and merchants a leg up in how to process credit cards and establish a means of understanding the merchant world. Our affiliate relationship with FAST TRANSACT helps us to deliver an end product solution that establishes credibility in the do's and don'ts of recognizing what merchant account is right for the merchant."

"Our distinctive online Merchant Account Application replaces the typical application process found with most other merchant service providers," added Solomon. "The collective decision-tree system is designed to help business owners choose a merchant account that best fits their needs, based upon personal responses to the questionnaire. A variety of parameters are used to generate a decision analysis that produces a detailed list of specific services, products, and fees or rates for that individual."

"In keeping with our commitment to provide the most up-to-date technology," Solomon stated, "we are extremely proud to be the cornerstone of an application system that takes the guesswork out of what can be a long and complicated process for most merchants. We look forward to working closely with InfoMerchant as we continue to develop innovative products and services within the credit card industry."
