PR9.NET December 06, 2006 - KAYSVILLE, Utah, Lamination Plus, an online distributor specializing in laminating equipment, announces the addition of the Ultima 65 Roll Laminator to their line of professional thermal roll laminators. This heavy-duty roll laminator was designed by GBC, joining the ranks of their premium high-volume roll and pouch laminators. Lamination Plus is offering this high-volume roll laminator at <http://www.laminationplus.com/ultima65.shtml>. Their entire line of paper folders can be found at <http://www.laminationplus.com/thermal1.shtml>.

GBC has been supplying top quality laminating and other office equipment to businesses and the public for over 50 years. GBC constructs their high-performance machines with the office, school, church, bindery, print shop or other users in mind. GBC merged with ACCO Brands Corporation in 2005, and has their base of operations in Booneville, Mississippi.

The addition of the Ultima 65 Roll Laminator adds the quality of GBC products to Lamination Plus' roll laminator equipment line. The Ultima 65 Roll Laminator uses motorized rollers that apply heat and pressure to laminating film, sealing the media within. This process produces consistent, wrinkle-free laminations. The simple keypad operation includes digital speed control and setting presets. It has a laminating width of 27 inches.

The Ultima 65 Roll laminator is a staple at schools and is also popular at offices, print shops and graphic design departments due to inexpensive costs, ease of operation, high output and highly effective protection for pictures, documents, charts, posters, and banners.

Lamination Plus, <http://www.laminationplus.com>, has been serving the business and professional community since 1997 by offering quality laminating supplies and equipment. They are also distributors for photo ID and shrink-wrap equipment and supplies.
