In a globalized world where businesses move faster every day and people from all over the world interact with one another in many different situations, Language123 is the smart choice for your translation and interpretation needs.

PR9.NET December 19, 2006 - New York, NY – You can find many definitions of "Globalization", but basically it is the concept of a new world order where barriers are being suppressed and businesses can grow faster, people can move with more freedom around the world and communications are practically instantaneous no matter where you are located.

But of course cultural and language differences are a major upset that come in the way of this massive integration and they have to seriously be taken into consideration in order to maintain this rate of global growth; and to achieve a good level of communication is a key factor in this issue.

Language123 (<http://language123.com>) is the translation marketplace designed to help you with your translation requirements. Whether you have a business proposal to send to Asia, want communicate with a new friend in Europe or if you are planning a trip to Africa or South America, you can go to Language123 and search for the best option according to your needs.

It has a very user-friendly interface that allows you to search for a specific individual (translator or interpreter), look at their profiles, post your requirements for a particular group of translators and interpreters from all over the world and receive their quotes, all of these for FREE. And since it is all based to work online, you don't have to limit yourself to local translators; with given exceptions, you can work together with language professionals based anywhere in the world.
