All Titan iPod Cases and Accessories from GizMac are on Sale Through 2006

PR9.NET December 29, 2006 - Torrance, CA – GizMac Accessories, designer and manufacturer of innovative iPod cases and accessories, begins their New Year's savings sale.

GizMac has started their holiday season sale by reducing the price of their iPod cases and accessories. Titan Nano cases and Titan Gear accessories are up to 25% off until December 31st.

Titan iPod cases for first generation Nanos are constructed of aircraft quality aluminum and come in several anodized colors. Black, pink, red, blue, silver, green, purple, orange and gold colors are available at the sale price.

For the second generation iPod Nano, Titan Gear provides four ways to carry the Nano while showing off the sleek and colorful aluminum iPod body at the same time. Titan Gear attachments make the new Nano easy to use, while the open design shows off the color and look of the new iPod Nano.

"GizMac Accessories starts our holiday sale today." Says Ken Vitto, Director of Marketing for GizMac Accessories, "The Titan iPod Nano cases and Titan Gear are already a good value because of the included armband, carabiner, belt clip and lanyard attachments; but these sale prices will be great for gift giving during the holidays and your own purchase before the new year."

Titan anodized aluminum iPod cases for the 1st generation iPod Nano are normally priced at $39.99, but they are on sale for only $29.99. Titan Gear for the 2nd generation iPod Nano is normally $24.99, on sale now for $19.99. GizMac iPod cases and accessories can be purchased through authorized resellers and through the GizMac web site at <http://www.gizmac.com>.
