EMANIO, Inc. reduces prices dramatically across the line on its line of EDI and Data Integration Offerings.

PR9.NET January 17, 2007 - Berkeley, California - EMANIO, Inc. - a leading provider of Data Integration (DI) and Electronic Data Interchange (EDI) applications announced today the immediate availability of its products with drastically reduced prices. "EMANIO is now leading the charge towards more affordable, more complete software solutions for mid-sized companies," stated EMANIO CEO KG Charles-Harris. "Our new software pricing provides EDI and Data Integration solutions at rates that any small and mid-sized business can afford, with the trust that comes with purchasing software and services from an organization that has been in business for over twelve years and has worked with thousands of customers", continued Mr. Charles-Harris.

EMANIO's new pricing is effective immediately and provides reductions of as much as sixty percent over its previous prices. Mr. Charles-Harris stated, "Coupled with our continued guarantee of providing firm, fixed prices that cover both the software and 100% of the implementation of our software, our new price offerings bring EDI software and Data Integration software into the hands of small and mid-sized businesses at affordable rates for the first time."

EMANIO's revised pricing is available by contacting EMANIO's sales department at (510) 849-9300. EMANIO customers are additionally eligible for discounts on product purchases through EMANIO's good customer program. EMANIO's pricing to its VAR channel have also been reduced dramatically and provide even greater opportunities for VARs and System Integrators to provide value and true benefit to small and mid-sized businesses everywhere.
