Stock market trading and stock investing website surpasses yearly traffic objective in under four months

PR9.NET February 05, 2007 - Kamloops, BC, Canada - Tradeopolis.com, a stock market trading and stock investing resource, recently surpassed its one year traffic objectives of 15,000 visitors. A site featuring online stock trading information on mining to biotech stocks publicly traded on the Toronto Stock Exchange and TSX Venture Exchange, Tradeopolis.com recorded over 16,000 visitors, averaging 520 readers per day with over 28,000 page views or over 900 per day for the month of January 2007. Since launching in mid-October 2006, the stock market website has logged over 84,000 page views and nearly 49,000 visitors.

"We take a conservative approach to our business operations," stated Branden Moskwa, founding partner of Tradeopolis.com, "but surpassing our one year traffic goals in under four months of operation certainly exceeds our expectations and is confirmation that this type of service is needed in the industry."

Tradeopolis.com is a website focused on providing an interactive and educational resource for the stock market investor and Canadian public companies to interact and educate by providing the most current investment opportunities and educational investment articles. The website posts daily articles on stock market trading and stock investing, and features company information and press releases on Toronto Stock Exchange and TSX Venture Exchange companies.

Tradeopolis.com utilizes a blog format for enhanced site interaction and provides a space for TSX and TSX Venture Exchange companies to post news releases on the front page of the site. By having a daily news release exclusively featured front and centre, visitors are easily introduced to these new stock investing opportunities.

Through the site, readers are able to access press releases, post comments on existing and previous articles, access a stock ticker, stock quotes, news feeds, and relevant investment articles written both by Tradeopolis contributors and reputable resources.

The vision of Tradeopolis.com is to build a community that grows and thrives on customer input and encourages site visitors to leave their comments in order to provide the best service possible for those seeking information on the stock market.
