EasyDate Ltd gives the International Dating sites in their portfolio a new look and feel in an attempt to keep up with the demands in the industry

PR9.NET February 12, 2007 - Edinburgh, UK - YouCanGetMe.com and DatingBridge.com have been part of the EasyDate family of Online Dating sites since 2002. The company decided to re-design the sites to keep them fresh and relevant, as well as ensuring a constant evolution in terms of improvements and enhancements to their services.

Sean Wood, Online Marketing Manager of EasyDate, commented: "It is important to refresh your websites occasionally as designs can become stale after a while and members get tired of seeing the same look for too long. It also gives you a fantastic opportunity to carry out some essential housekeeping and incorporate some great new features or ideas. "

The popularity of YouCanGetMe amongst the young Online Dating audience has increased during the past year and EasyDate wanted to reflect this in the visual identity of the new site. The site was the first audio-video dating site in the UK to offer singles the opportunity to meet their dates using the cutting-edge SeeMe, HearMe, MeetMe technology, which enables singles to see and hear each other before arranging to meet in person.

The audio-video chats have been gradually incorporated to each one of the Online Dating sites within the company portfolio.

The newly designed www.youcangetme.com offers all the original features plus a postcode based search for those who want to find a local date, mobile wap dating and sms notifications. Visually, the site looks brighter, colourful and more attractive than its old version.

DatingBridge is YouCanGetMe's sister site. The new face of this site not only attracts young international singles but people from a variety of age groups and backgrounds; www.datingbridge.com features interactive dating, instant messaging, free registration, picture profiles, internal email services and free search.

YouCanGetMe.com and DatingBridge.com are open to singles from all over the world and offer a free registration to every visitor. Blind dates are a thing of the past on sites like these, being able to have a live video chat with other singles reduces the risk of disappointment on first time meetings and creates a safe Online Dating environment. This gives UK and International daters the chance to make sure who they are dating before taking their relationships offline.
