Lake George, New York offers the perfect cold weather romantic winter getaway with a myriad of things to see and do ranging from relaxation and pampering to skiing, snowboarding, sightseeing, and shopping.

PR9.NET February 16, 2007 - Lake George, NY – Lake George, a quaint Adirondack village in upstate New York offers the perfect winter escape for couples and families alike with its crisp mountain air and wide array of winter activities sure to please travelers of all ages.

Lake George's snow-capped mountains are the perfect backdrop for cross country skiing along many of the region's trails including the lighted trails in the nearby town of Glens Falls. Other popular winter activities include snowmobiling along more than 200 miles of groomed snowmobile trails, snowshoeing, or taking a horse drawn sleigh or dog sled ride. Downhill ski and snowboard enthusiasts can satiate their desires at West Mountain's 22 trails or Gore's 53 trails.

The Lake George Recreation Center is a great place for ice skating and sledding during the winter months. Indoor ice skating is also available as are famous brand outlets, myriad restaurants to satisfy all cravings, and great nightlife. Perhaps one of the most popular pastimes in Lake George, however, is ice fishing.

February weekends offer visitors the famed Lake George Winter Festival featuring numerous events for the whole family including motorcycle and four-wheel drive races on the ice, snowmobile jumps, and the Polar Bear Club outing when member of the local chapter take a dip in the icy lake.
