Fun, inexpensive, downloadable recipes on niche topics available for the hungry, time-pressed individual or family.

PR9.NET March 08, 2007 - Rancho Santa Margarita, CA – Pressed for time? Love cooking but hate the work and frustration of searching for recipes in several cookbooks? Want to make fudge to sell on E-Bay? Fifty Fantastic Recipes solves these problems for you. Innovative entrepreneur, Bonnie Jo Davis, has launched a web site featuring e-cookbooks. Inexpensive and easy to read, these e-cookbooks contain complete meal recipes or focus on one food type - like brownies! Current e-cookbook titles include:

- Fifty Fantastic Fudge Recipes
- Fifty Fantastic Dessert Recipes
- Fifty Fantastic Valentine's Day Recipes
- Fifty Fantastic Winter Holiday Recipes
- Fifty Fantastic Cookie Recipes
- Fifty Fantastic Holiday Leftover Recipes
- Fifty Fantastic Nut Free Recipes
- Fifty Fantastic Dog Recipes
- Fifty Fantastic Baby Food Recipes
- Fifty Fantastic Soup And Stew Recipes

Upcoming topics will feature chocolate, kosher, muffins, seafood and vegetables. Each e-cookbook has 50 recipes you can download at any time, day or night. The e-cookbooks are Adobe Acrobat (pdf) files, and they come a free grocery shopping list. They can be read on-line or printed and placed in a binder.

The web site also offers cooking articles, free recipes, and a weekly e-zine that suggests recommended resources and provides a free recipe! Fifty Fantastic Recipes e-cookbooks are available at <http://www.Fifty-Fantastic-Recipes.com>
