Argent's new release makes it easier to manage networks, monitor Microsoft Exchange and BlackBerry Servers, and comply with Sarbanes-Oxley, HIPAA and other regulations.

PR9.NET March 29, 2007 - Farmington, CT – Argent Software, Inc., today announced that it has made available an enhanced version of its patented and award winning business assurance solutions featuring Argent Extended Technologies. Argent has added greater functionality for managing SNMP devices and messaging systems such as Microsoft Exchange and BlackBerry Servers, as well as for consolidating critical data from across the enterprise.

Key among Argent's range of products, Argent Exchange Monitor has been revamped to fully take advantage of the features in all versions of Microsoft Exchange Server. The products also include expanded Rule Sets for BlackBerry Servers, thus providing limitless control over virtually all mission-critical messaging systems.

Other major enhancements to the range of products involve more robust network monitoring and compliance capabilities. Argent SNMP Monitor now includes customizable alerts, allowing network administrators to pinpoint and respond to network issues faster than ever before. Argent's solution for adhering to Sarbanes-Oxley and HIPAA regulations, Argent Data Consolidator, now features Parse Sets that give customers the ability to convey any type of logical expression, thus making it easier to collect event logs across the enterprise.

Andrew Blencowe, President and CEO of Argent Worldwide stated, "Argent's goal is to make life easier for IT managers - whether they are trying to comply with government regulations or keep their email servers running. Our latest offerings clearly achieve that goal."

Organizations seeking a robust and easy-to-use enterprise monitoring solution should contact Argent today at Sales@Argent.com. Existing customers with complex messaging server configurations or government regulation requirements are encouraged to upgrade to Argent Extended Technologies version 8.0A-0701 to benefit from these new enhancements.
