GoldenTravelGuides.com travel professionals have been busy researching and personally reviewing top destinations for spring travel. In addition to this, they have compiled customer data from reservations made in the past six months in order to identify the types of vacations spring travelers are interested in. With this, they have carefully compiled a list of their top ten recommended spring vacations. They are as follows:

- 1) Cruises - Caribbean or European
- 2) Las Vegas
- 3) Riviera Maya
- 4) Grand Canyon
- 5) Punta Cana
- 6) South Padre Island
- 7) Key West
- 8) Poconos
- 9) Smoky Mountains
- 10) Atlantic City

As far as cruises go, just like with many traditional forms of travel, the prices hit rock-bottom in the spring months when an abundance of spectacular deals are available. GoldenTravelGuides says the top spring 2007 cruises are Caribbean cruises and European cruises each of which offer their own unique vacation in impressive cruise style.

The non-stop casino and entertainment excitement of spring's moderate climate makes Las Vegas one of the top destinations. The Riviera Maya set serenely in the southern part of Mexico has been gaining popularity in recent years but still offers much-needed tropical seclusion. The Grand Canyon isn't as crowded or as hot in the spring months, making it the perfect time to get out to nature and enjoy the near perfect weather. Punta Cana, Dominican Republic was chosen for its unlimited sporting adventures and stunning beaches.

South Padre Island located in southeast Texas is a perfect spring getaway with warm weather, long stretches of beaches, and loads of traveler friendly activities. Key West ranked as a top spring destination for its unique shore-town appeal while the Poconos was chosen for its quaint mountain appeal, abundance of hotels and resorts, and myriad of sightseeing adventures. The Smoky Mountains of Tennessee is the perfect place to rent a luxury log cabin and take in the fresh mountain air of America's most visited National Park. Atlantic City was chosen for the combination of its gambling and casino fun and beaches and boardwalk attitude.
