Arcade Boredom, is offering high quality free online games at www.arcadeboredom.com with no signup or payment required.

PR9.NET May 15, 2007 - Edinburgh, Scotland - Internet users can now access over 200 high quality free online games, with no signing up or payment needed, at Arcade Boredom (www.arcadeboredom.com)

Arcade Boredom follows the strict quality over quantity principle providing only the finest selection of free online games. Internet users incur no costs nor do they have to sign up. They can play any online game on the website as many times as they wish for free. The selection of free games ranges from action and adventure games, to sports and shooting games, to strategy games and puzzles. The site also provides access to Nintendo NES games through an emulator. Titles include many classic ones such as the Super Mario Brothers series and Zelda. No downloads are required to use the service. The website also provides an embed code for all its flash games. Users can use this code to display the games on their blogs, Myspace profiles or websites.
