PR9.NET May 22, 2007 - Los Angeles – Level Promo Gifts recently launched its latest collection of Roller Pens. Available in both metal and plastic finishes, these elegantly designed pens are guaranteed to provide ultra-smooth writing and comfort. Each pen is constructed using premium quality materials for optimum durability.

With a wide range of colors and sizes to choose from, Level Promo Gifts' new roller pens make great promotional items, corporate give-aways, and personal gifts. As affordable advertising materials, each pen can be imprinted or engraved with your company's name or logo for greater brand recognition.

"We take pride in providing high quality products at unbelievably low prices", stated Level Promo Gifts' spokesperson in a recent Los Angeles Trade Exhibit. "Since we owe it to our customers for bringing us to where we are right now, our organization finds it proper that we return the favor by consistently providing products and services that are highly expected from us."

Level Promo Gifts' new roller pens are the newest addition to their vast line of promotional products. Office items presently constitute approximately 80% of their merchandise. "Based on our clients' feedback, promotional desk items such as ballpens and calculators elicit better response from customers simply because these products are used often, thus helping establish brand name recall. You won't find any other form of advertising media that can provide the same amount of exposure at such a low cost."
