Human resource professionals judge company as one of the top 100 in the state

PR9.NET May 24, 2007 - Bellevue, Wash - Pharmacy OneSource, Inc., software as a service provider to more than 1,000 hospitals in the United States, was recently named one of Washington's Best 100 Companies to Work For by Washington CEO Magazine.

"The energy we put into creating a great place to work nearly equals the energy the entire team puts into making our software services the best in the pharmacy profession," said Terry Gibbons, CEO of Pharmacy OneSource. "This focus is essential as we grow rapidly in the highly competitive talent market of Washington."

Pharmacy OneSource was selected from among more than 200 Evergreen State companies nominated for consideration. The overall rankings will appear in the magazine's July issue in four categories – large, medium, small, and non-profits.

"The companies included in the list have demonstrated that they value their employees and their contributions to overall success," said Bob Ritter, publisher and chief executive officer of the magazine. "Our evaluation is extensive. It included surveys of both employees and management and review by a distinguished group of human resource professionals."

Members of the Pharmacy OneSource team will attend the June 28 event where all 100 companies will be honored with dinner, music and a celebration of success. The event will be held at the Washington State Convention and Trade Center. The top three companies in each category will receive special recognition.

Hebert Research, Inc. tabulated all surveys and supplied analysis. Those results were then reviewed by five judges who determined the final ranking.
