

New Political Online Shop Launched "A Woman's Place Is In The House, The White House!"

A Little Bit of Something for Everyone, May 25, 2007

URL: <http://www.pr9.net/business/ecommerce/5623may.html>

With Hillary running for President, Americans are ready for a change and what better way for them to express these ideas, than with Merchandise from "A Woman's Place is in the House, The White House."

PR9.NET May 25, 2007 - DALLAS, TX - With the 2008 Election fast approaching, an ongoing War in Iraq and Immigration on the minds of Americans, what lies in their hearts? Americans are ready for a change and what better way for them to express these ideas, without ever having to say a word, than with Political Merchandise from "A Woman's Place Is in the House, The White House", http://www.cafepress.com/smiley_faces/2493731.

With Hillary Clinton running for President, this could change history. Who knows, we might have the first women President sooner than we think. Remember the ole' saying "A Woman's Place Is in the House?" Well, this 1950's catch phrase has a nostalgia feeling from yesteryear that will surely turn heads. T-shirts, Apparel, Caps, Mugs, Buttons and Stickers are a Unique, Creative and Fun way to say, A Woman's Place Is Truly in the House, The White House, that is!

In an age where "time is money" and with the growing popularity of online shopping, the consumer can shop for "A Woman's Place is In the House, The White House" merchandise without ever having to leave their homes.

Support Hillary Clinton for President and get your piece of history today.

For more information about, "A Woman's Place is In the House, The White House," visit, http://www.cafepress.com/smiley_faces/2493731.

###

About A Little Bit of Something for Everyone

A Little Bit of Something for Everyone carries Military, Retro, Sports, Vintage, Texan, Humorous and Political Apparel, Caps, Bags, Mugs, Posters, Buttons, Stickers, Stamps and More.

Phone: 972-644-3354
Website: http://www.cafepress.com/smiley_faces
E-Mail: plumb4me@comcast.net