PR9.NET June 07, 2007 - DENVER, USA - Offering a unique and secure way to send and receive money as a gift, Reebles.com has gone live with its website at www.reebles.com. Reebles.com, a Denver, Colo. based startup company, has introduced an innovative online money gift registry website. In order to take the awkwardness out of asking for money as a gift, the founders of Reebles.com, decided to place the burden on their shoulders. Using the most advanced technologies on the web, Reebles.com is a safe and secure online money gift registry that has tailored its website for use by anyone celebrating a special occasion (such as a wedding, a birthday, graduation, a bar mitzvah, or any other special event) to give and receive money as a gift.

Reebles.com is introducing this online service that is long overdue in an ever growing gift market. Anyone, over 18, with a Special Occasion can register for FREE and share their registry with their friends and family. "The service that Reebles.com offers can be used by anyone from graduates to new mothers; for birthdays to first time home buyers, Reebles.com makes it easy to ask for money as a gift," said Scott Barton, Founder of Reebles.com. "It is hard to tell your loved ones that money would help you out more than a bunch of small gifts. We are moving into a new age where it is common to ask for help with your honeymoon or a down payment on a home. Your friends and family want you to be happy and give you the gift you need," said Ron Coleman, Founder of Reebles.com.

We encourage you to take advantage of this new online service by visiting us at www.reebles.com. "Don't ask...Just Register!"
