On June 5, Knudson began the series with fellow marketing pro, Russell Brunson, who provided details of his own proven system for generating cash, entitled, "How to Make 6 Figures in 7 Minutes a Day." During his presentation, he revealed the secret of how anyone can be a success online by following three simple rules, and went on to describe the ins and outs of affiliate marketing versus creating a product of your own.

The series continues with information from marketing masters like Shawn Casey, Alex Mandossian, Matt Bacak, Jeff Paul, Kevin Wilke, and Joel Comm. Knudson claims, "Once you download the secret systems these check-cashing 'Iron-Man' Money Machines use, you won't be able to stop making more cash, even if you want to!" All of the .mp3s will be made available as the series progresses.

In an attempt to prove, once and for all, that these systems are unstoppable, Knudson even produced a page from his own payment processing account to verify how well the systems work, and said, "Literally days after using just one of these systems my PayPal account starts racking up the numbers in the double and triple digits and just doesn't stop, even if I don't do a thing."

"All you have to do is pick up your phone, drink a tall iced coffee to get 'pumped,' and listen as these men fill your ear with the most coveted secrets on earth for making the money flow and your bank account grow like wildfire." Once the series is complete, it will also include a complete set of step-by-step, "Here's exactly how you do it" video tutorials.
